The Three Pillars of Mediation

with Janet Seitlin

Florida Supreme Court Certified Circuit Civil, Family, County, Appellate and Victim Offender Mediator - Public Policy Facilitator

Janet Seitlin has been a mediator for 35 years, practicing at Salmon & Dulberg Dispute Resolution since 2000. She has taught the mediation skills workshop at the University of Miami School of Law since 1998.

In her decades of experience as a lawyer, mediator and professor in the Miami area, she is reminded time and again of the simplicity yet importance of three key elements that make mediation a reliably effective form of conflict resolution.

Beginning this month, we are pleased to feature a series of discussions outlining these three pillars of mediation and why they are a sturdy foundation for the mediation process.
